I first joined show choir at the start of my sixth-grade year. I was one of four sixth-graders chosen to join One Voice. Only two of those four remain, Melissa Gibson and myself. We're now both graduating, and it seems too soon. So, Melissa, thank you for making this an enjoyable ride. You've always been cheery no matter what situation we've been in, and I'm so glad you stuck with this program. Mr. Rains, I'd like to thank you for everything that you've changed with this program in the three years you've been here. I've been lucky to have you as a director for all three years. Bailey, thank you for what you said last year; it's kept me going through this year, and it will stick with me. James- I finally convinced you to join show choir, and I'm glad it became something you enjoy. We've had an interesting friendship, but I'd never change it. Braeden and Bryce- I've only known you two for two years, but we've become close friends, and I can't believe I'm already having to leave. Jake- I've also known you for two years, and we quickly became close friends. There's not a moment of it I'd take back. Dallen- I've known you since second grade, and we've never grown apart, I'm glad to have a friend like you, even if you tend to fall a little short (Ha). Hollie- We've gotten a lot closer this year, and you've kept me sane through a lot of this year, so thank you. Thanks to the section leaders who have put up with the days that we wanted to just stop working (and pushed through to make the show better), and our dance captains for making my last year enjoyable.
